Proceedings at Cincinnati—Some of the Committees Report.

How it Will end is Still Shrouded by a Veil of Mystery.

Bayard is Still Ahead and will in all Probability be Nominated.

Kelley of New York is Invited to Speak; but is not Present.

Cincinnati, June 23.—At Cincinnati at 10 o'clock this forenoon not 20 delegates were in their seats. The galleries were two-thirds full; the weather was warm and sultry. It is understood that the Committee on Credentials will report immediately after a permanent organization is effected. The platform committee is still at work on their resolutions. The usual demonstrations of applause were made as prominent gentlemen entered, and especially when the banners of Randall and other political clubs passed over the aisle. The fact, however, that there is here much less of this sort of out side pressure for individual candidates than there was at Chicago. The woman's suffrage representatives were honored with applause from the audience as they took seats. After a brilliant voluntary on the organ the military band played various national and operatic airs; "Yankee Doodle" alone seemed to rouse the audience. The following fills the blanks on permanent organizations as sent last night: Vice-Presidents, F. C. Cook, New York; J. H. Hagerman, Nevada; Secretaries, F. Rice, New York; F. F. Help, Nevada. Ed. Begler, as substitute.

CALL TO ORDER.
The convention was called to order at forty minutes after ten o'clock when all the delegates appeared to be on hand.

A prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Charles Taylor, of the Scott St. Methodist Church. He prayed for harmony and the yielding of all personal preferences to the general welfare of the people.

He implored the blessing on the large assembly of representative men from all parts of the land, and that its members might be embued by lofty patriotism and strict conscientiousness that they might have grace to act as under divine guidance and with respect to their responsibilities, that they might be granted good will, until forbearance and a spirit of conciliation and regard for the views of opinions of each other; that all bitterness be suppressed and perfect good will prevail, and a spirit of self sacrifice and yielding personal preference to the greatest good of all concerned that their deliberations might result in higher good of the nation, and that all concerned might be true themselves, true to their fellowman and to the principle by which they profess to be governed; true to their country and to their God.

On motion the reading of the minutes of yesterday were dispensed with. Stenoburg, of Indiana, moved a resolution, that to surviving the soldiers of the Mexican war and widows and orphans, should be held by congress on same footing as soldiers of 1812, which was referred to the platform committee.

The chairman announced the first business in order was the report of the committee on credentials asked if it was to report. There was an interval of some time before there was any response; during the meantime the chair ordered read a telegram from Reynolds, of New York, saying that a bon fire was ready to be lighted for the democratic nominee. [Laughter and applause.]

Judge Hoadley, announced that the chairman of the credentials committee was not ready and called on the committee on permanent organization. Martin, of Delaware, chairman of the committee reported a permanent organization.

Martin moved that his report be adopted and on that asked the previous question which he subsequently withdrew. Jeffries, of Louisiana, moved the postponement of further proceedings on the report of permanent organization until the convention had received and acted on the committee on credentials, which was adopted.

Young, of Georgia, as chairman presented a report of the committee on credentials; they reported that there were two delegates from Massachusetts, and that they admitted both delegations by agreement between the two. The united delegations to cast the vote in the State in favor of seating the delegates from the 26th district of Pennsylvania.

In the case of New York the committee had carefully weighed the whole evidence and with singular unanimity had voted to allow the sitting members to retain their seats. [Great Applause.] There was no other contestants, so the committee reported the full list of delegates entitled to seats.

Carroll, of Kansas, presented a minority report; it was proposed to have the reading clerk read; but the chair said the gentleman from Kansas should have his own way about it. [Applause.]

Carroll proceeded to read his report, interrupted with boisterous cries of "louder! louder! Let the clerk read."

The Chair called order and said that the gentleman from Kansas could be heard if order was preserved and it was his right to be heard and he should be heard. [Applause.]

Carroll proceeded to argue that the position of Tammany men at this time was precisely like the condition of the New York contestants when the contestants were admitted to the hall. The seats of New York in the convention which action united the party and led to victory; in conclusion the report presented a resolution deciding by a vote of fifty to twenty. The minority report is signed by Carroll, of Kansas; Bell, of New Jersey; Barlow, of Colorado; and Davidson, of Arkansas.

Young demanded the previous question; that the committee have spent all night on this work and he believed had done it well.

In the vote on seconding the previous question, Colorado voted 7 in favor of cutting down on admission of Tammany and five against it. Colorado cast 4 years and 2 days. Nevada voted 6 years.

The committee on resolutions at this morning's meeting, time was granted the sub-committee to further digest and prepared a platform, and the chairman, Hon. Henry Watterson, was instructed to report to the convention that the resolutions were not yet ready and to ask for further time on behalf of the committees, and ask leave to report at any time, as the sentiment of the committee was that the convention should proceed to ballot for candidate for President and that the committee have its report read, some time during the day. The opinion was expressed also that the convention would be able to adjourn to-day.

Loud cried of the platform; take the platform, which caused Young to go to the stage and proposed to give 40 minutes to any man who would be suggested by Mr. Kelly, of New York, reserving his own 20 minutes for reply. [Applause and hisses.]

The chair stated that he understood it to be the wish of the contestants to be represented by Kelley, and asked that he be accorded to that privilege; [Hisses and cries of Yes] and finally the chair announced that he heard no objection and invited Kelley to the platform. Kelley not being in the hall, the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to escort anybody to the platform whom the New York contestants indicate.

In response Geo. Miller, of Albany, came forward and was greeted with applause. He hoped the right of free speech would not be interrupted by any man in whose veins flowed a drop of Democratic blood. The contestants came with no fire brand; but to present an olive branch with view to victorious success. Reference to the name of Kelly was greeted with applause and storms of hisses were renewed, when the speaker declared he had no superior in integrity and devotion to the Democratic principles and party. He proceeded to argue the importance of giving the Tammany men some representation in this body as a means of securing unity and success; only fifteen of the contestants are from New York, and the remainder of them represent over forty thousand democrats scattered all over the state and numbering at least one-fifth of the democratic vote in said state. In speaking for the contestants from the rural districts, he said that they intend to support whoever would be made the candidates of this convention, and they were all anxious only for such proceedings here as shall tend best to promote and insure a great triumph. [Applause.]

The majority report of the committee on credentials read as follows: In Massachusetts delegations are present from the state of Massachusetts, one known as the Faneuil Hall delegation and the other as the Mechanics Hall convention; and by joint request made by the delegations the committee on credentials unanimously recommended that both delegations be admitted to a seat in the convention. The united delegation to count the vote to which the State is entitled. [Applause.]

In the case of the contesting delegations from the 25th congressional district of Pennsylvania, we report that the leading delegation is entitled to their seats as members of the convention.

The committee has carefully examined all the evidence brought before it bearing on the contested case from the State of New York. If carefully and patiently considered the facts in contest. They argued the evidence presented on both sides, and by a singularity of a unanimous vote, allows the sitting members to retain their seats. [General Applause.] Except from Tammany benches. With these exceptions there was no contest before the committee and we herewith submit the list of delegates duly entitled to seats in the convention.

The minority was read by Mr. Carroll, of Kansas, one of the committee, as follows: After hearing the contesting delegates from the State of New York, we find that that state is divided into two factions, each having all the materials of a perfect party organization and each assumed to represent a regularly large part of the democratic party of New York; that each of said party divisions has held a state convention under a regular call, and has duly elected delegates to represent the State of New York in the convention, and that the attitude of these factions is precisely analogous to that of the democrats of that State in 1856, and that to-night, the party at that time the national convention decided that the delegations each to cast half the vote to which the State is entitled in that convention. In the election of a democratic president we believe that a similar course at this time will result in a kindred success and we therefore recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved: That the Faulkner branch of democratic delegates from the State of New York be allowed to cast 50 votes in the convention, and that the Shakespeare Hall democracy be allowed to cast 20 votes in such convention, and that each of said divisions shall determine its method of counting such votes unless this convention should give them the twenty seats recommended. Amos J. Parker, a sterling old democrat followed for the contestants he denied that the contestants represented the democrats at all of the rural districts at least 15,000 of the democrats of that state; we demand to be heard; he came in the spirit of harmony with a great desire that the wisdom and patriotism of the convention should unite the party and redeem the New York Government and his associates from the rural districts should support whatever tickets should be named here [Applause.] He should vote for Gen. Robinson. [Applause.] The contestants represent them much more than the 40,000 Tammany vote in New York city or the 70,000 votes cast for Kelly for Governor, this was no time to discuss the merits of this contest; but he appealed to the president of the democratic convention and urged that if 56 be followed now in its spirit, then half of the vote of New York was given to the contestants; they asked now only twenty of seventy votes; if the convention desired them to join in the work of redeeming the country with any hope of success, he implored them to give the contestants a chance to do so.

At six o'clock the convention adjourned until ten o'clock to-day.

Deadwood, June 23.—The Bonds-men of the county treasurer, Neill, have notified the commissioners today of their withdrawal from his bond. Neill was ordered to vacate the office instantly by the commissioners. —M. Salazar Esq. is back from Mora where the partition suit is being tried before a Master in chancery. He states that an agreement has been failed by the lawyers in the case all unoccupied lands shall be divided up. The occupied lands shall be considered as belonging to the occupants. By occupied lands of course it is understood, lands which have been in possession and occupancy of an individual for the number of years necessary to give him title under the statute of Limitations. All the balance of the grant will be divided up and allotted in severalty. The inhabitants of the grant have been greatly excited over the matter, laboring under the impression that they were to be robbed of their homes, but the agreement died has had a tendency to allay suspicion in this direction and it is anticipated that the whole matter will be amicably adjusted. If the latter is the case and the lands are decreed in segregated lots to individuals and titles all quieted then the partition will be a blessing to Mora county, the benefits which cannot now be well realized.
